

If you're in good physical shape and need to roam quickly around crowded downtown areas, seek online info about bike share. It's more convenient and much cheaper than ever-rising charges for taxis, Uber or Lyft. Many cities already offer the bike service free or at very low cost.

They include Atlanta, Chicago, Louisville, Minneapolis, New York City, Orlando, Phoenix and Portland. When you roam foreign cities and want to bike your way around, you'll find many of them offer similar economic bike share programs.