

The downtown luxury hotel in Atlanta GA has an extensive garden on the roof that provides seasonal fruit, vegetables and herbs for its Park 75 Restaurant. Hotel guests can enjoy their meals knowing they're getting the absolutely freshest ingredients.

The garden is pollinated by bees housed right next to the vegetables and fruit growing on the roof. The hives provide honey to the hotel chefs for many desserts and other cooking menus.