

Disneyland and Walt Disney World are for kids and those who enjoy acting like kids. After the busy holiday season, they offer exceptional bargain packages for those seniors who want to escape the usual family crowds and January and February winter and travel to the (nearly always) sunny Florida or California parks. If you haven't visited Disney for several years, you'll be surprised and delighted by all the new features and programs now awaiting you. Check with priceline.com, southwest.com, other travel websites and your favorite neighborhood travel agent for winter Disney bargains to the happiest places on Earth.
