

Your travel4seniors.com editor is very old, and just maybe ready for a visit with Dr. Alzheimer. However, on visits to Sin City, I want to believe I see or hear famous entertainers. And for free!

The best location for the ghostly experiences are the Fountains of Bellagio. They're 1,200 water spouts in Lake Bellagio in front of the resort. They send water soaring as high as 460 feet into the Vegas sky. Current examples include Celine Dion's "My Heart Will Go On," Faith Hill's "This Kiss" and Elton John's "Your Song."

However, my fave is Sinatra singing "Luck Be A Lady". As I stroll along at night by the Bellagio waters, his great classic bursts out of dozens of hidden speakers. Then I know I'm not walking alone.
