

If your winter plans include visiting the Florida city, be sure to stop in for, as the name translates, some bread and wine. And, of course, you'll have many more happy choices of delicious Italian specialties. According to TripAdvisor's reader survey, this restaurant tops the list. So, when you go there, it'll be buon appetito with your carpaccio and pasta alla ruota.