

While your travel4seniors.com was visiting, he shot this overhead lecture scene from the floor above. Named for Gene Autry, famous Western singer and movie star, the museum features classes, art, history and cultures.

In the city's Griffith Park, the Autry displays many examples of cowboy and Native American art and traditions. Also movie memorabilia, historic firearms and paintings. There are regularly scheduled demonstrations, lectures for adults and children, including interactive workshops. For more info, go to theautry.org
