

On a gloomy evening during a visit to Edgar Allan Poe's city, your travel4seniors.com editor's camera captured this scene, and maybe the bird's opinion: Question: Will the burned out street light bulb ever be replaced? Quoth the raven: nevermore.