

Britain's National Trust handles all kinds of rentals of cottages in the countryside of England, Wales and Northern Ireland, with weekly rates a lot less than what you might spend for a few nights in a hotel. Her's an example, a cottage for two in the Cotswolds during the first part of 2009 is only about $464. www.nationaltrustcottages.co.uk