

If you think airport screening is the only thing these days that's all about nudity, stop in for lunch at Torch Bistro, Sushi and Marine Bar in Punta Gorda Florida. The resort town is just up the state's west coast from Fort Myers.

When you go to the sushi buffet table, you'll find a nearly nude young woman lying there. In addition to filling your eyes, you can fill your plate with Asian food bits that are placed on her arms, legs and torso at various ladylike spots. Customers love the idea, especially the guys.

Apparently, there's nothing illegal about the food-on-babe presentation. The Florida Department of Business and Professional Regulation inspected the set-up and has no objection, as long as "all food contact surfaces be smooth and easily cleaned." Actually, the edible food doesn't touch the girl's body, because each piece is presented on a leaf or seaweed plate.

So, next time you're going through security at the airport, glue some food pieces on your vital parts and offer those groping screeners a bite.
