

Valentine's day is over, but you can always send some loving messages and gifts to those who are serving you in lonely and dangerous spots around the world. It can be a loved one or someone who'd just appreciate your consideration.

Through various online services, you can contact members of the Army, Marines, Navy, Air Force or Coast Guard. Some of them are:

www.operationshoebox.com

www.veteransresources.org

www.uso.org

www.redcross.org