

That's the idea, just you and the grandkids. You'll enjoy it, the grandkids will enjoy it, and the parents will be overjoyed to have some quality time for themselves.

At holiday time or any time of the year, check with cruise lines, your favorite online or hometown travel agency. Ask for information about cruises that offer onboard programs specifically designed for grandparents traveling with little ones. They'll include swimming pool games, parties, dining and a host of other fun activities.
