

Terminal 6 at Los Angeles International Airport is now themed as Hollywood's famed Sunset Boulevard. For we faithful movie fans, it immediately brings up the classic movie of the same name.

We remember the final moments, when the faded star portrayed by Gloria Swanson descends the steps. She'll be picked up by the police for murdering her lover. However, in her insanity, she believes it's a movie scene being filmed by the great director.

Actually, there's nothing insane about the new Sunset Boulevard scene at Terminal 6 at LAX. Except maybe the crazy bargains and varieties of decor, shops and restaurants. For more info, go to www.latimes.com/travel/deals/la-tr-lax-terminal-6-renovation-20161021-snap-story
