

He's three feet high, rolls around the passenger areas and communicates. He gives info and answers questions in English, Japanese and Chinese. He'll list flight times, describe various airport services and generally make your Tokyo Haneda airport experience more relaxing.