

The serious-looking one on the right is your roaming travel4seniors.com editor, about to ride his new equine pal in a morning trot at the Coworth Park hotel in Berkshire. Just a short 45 miles from London, the former Georgian manor house is now part of the Dorchester Collection of luxury hotels. It's surrounded by typical British countryside forests, fields and riding trails.