

Whether for senior adults or adultery, Sin City is certainly one of the steamiest hotspots in the world. If it's romance you're looking for, Las Vegas has an unending supply of it, both pure and profane.

For entertainment, there's every kind of showbiz experience, from a dozen Broadway-quality productions up and down the famed Strip to intimate little music clubs. There are more quality restaurants within walking distance in Vegas than in Beverly Hills and Broadway combined.

Of course, the casinos, clubs, theaters, cafés and hotels are not charitable institutions. They're there to lure you into the city's prime industry, gambling, to empty bank accounts and children's inheritance. No one forces senior visitors to gamble, but all the flashing lights and tinkling music are sure to attract you to jump into it.

If you've never been to a casino before, it would be wise to start off a first gambling experience with the least expensive slot and video poker machines. Play them for as little as a few cents a pop, investing a hundred bucks or less as your daily budget. You won't win, but it could be a fun challenge.

Then increase your investment to a dollar or more per play. The most expensive gambling is at the tables. In the upscale hotel resorts, betting at the tables usually starts with a minimum of ten bucks per play.

As for finding love in Sin City, who knows? For instance, if you're an ambitious single senior lady, somewhat short of cash but long on legs, try sidling up to that mysteriously handsome retired businessman. Especially if he's tossing hundred dollar bills on the table along with the dice.

Who knows to what adventures that may lead? If results heat up into everlasting love, there are dozens of wedding chapels in Vegas, including some with drive-up window service and cloned Elvis preachers.

As for other romantic happenings, the senior singles scene in Vegas will certainly prove you can find companionship at any hour of the day or night. Although commercial love is illegal within the city limits, any bartender and taxi driver can tell you where to find it, no matter what your preferences.

For everyone who intends to find love, entertainment, gambling and fine dining, the Sin City opportunities to sin are endless. But the folks back home don't need to know about it. The ad slogan that boasts whatever happens in Vegas stays in Vegas ain't just kidding. Unless you become a successful senior gambler and/or romancer who likes to brag.
